

Since its founding in 1983, Habitat Charlotte Region has been a national leader and innovator in affordable housing. One of the most successful efforts conceived locally is Women Build. What started as a casual conversation among a small group of Charlotte area women in 1991 has grown into an international movement of women empowering women through affordable housing. To date, nearly 5,700 homes have been constructed by women crews in the U.S. and around the world – and it started right here in Charlotte. Every year, Habitat Charlotte Region invites local companies and organizations to consider being a part of this meaningful build.

Construction starts in early May and continues through the summer at the Meadows at Plato Price in west Charlotte.
